HKCareers

Hey friend,

I'm Steven, co-founder and CEO of HKCareers, and I wanted to say a special thank you for subscribing to our "Case Competition List for University Students in HK" and joining our community of high achievers.

We continue to invest dozens of hours researching on job-hunting-related information, like this comprehensive list of case competitions, aiming to reduce your job hunting hassles. Thus I am confident that this list can facilitate you to build up your profile.

Before starting HKCareers, I worked as a banker, handling blue chip clients and corporate finance deals. As an HKU alumni, I constantly received inquiries from university students seeking career advice and interview tips.

Acknowledging the dearth of resources that university students faced for career planning (not to mention the lack of good coaches worth their salt), I reckoned there was need for high quality career training without the exorbitant prices that such specialists charged.

Now HKCareers is a team of 30 professional coaches (including myself) who have years of experience in investment banking, consulting, banking, property, FMCG and accounting.

We do it for students like you. Students who are motivated and passionate about building a career towards banking and business but lack the direction on how to start.

So thank you for being part of the community.

You will continue to be the inspiration for the excellent content we create to provide you the competitive edge you deserve. If you'd like to explore more about what HKCareers offers to help reach your career goals, feel free to read the next page.

Warmly,

Steven
